CHILDREN
The Nurturing Center opens at 8:30 a.m. each Sunday for children age two and younger.

Children’s Chapel takes place during the 8:45 a.m. service as an option for parents and children who are not yet ready to experience the full liturgy together, though children are always welcome in “big” church. Children three years through kindergarten begin in church with their parents, follow the children’s acolytes and leaders out at the Sequence Hymn, then rejoin their parents at the Offertory. Two-year-olds attend their own chapel service, which begins at 8:45 a.m. Parents who would like their children aged two and younger to join them for communion may go pick them up from Room 227 at the Peace.
ADULT CLASSES

Unless otherwise noted, these classes meet during the education hour, Sunday from 10:10–11 a.m.

OLD FASHIONED SUNDAY SCHOOL

Room 133
The 1960 film Inherit the Wind is a fictionalized account of the 1925 Scopes “Monkey” Trial, which resulted in the conviction of John Scopes for teaching Charles Darwin’s theory of evolution to a high school science class in contravention of Tennessee state law. This week, we’ll talk about science and religion, and why an “open take” on transcendent experience eliminates any conflict between the two. Join us. You’ll find a light heart and a broad welcome.

GREEK CLASSES

Room 356
Beginning with the alphabet and pronunciation, the goal of the Beginning Biblical Greek class (Sundays at 10:10 a.m.) is to equip students to read selected New Testament texts in Greek utilizing various tools. No previous knowledge of Greek is required. In the Continuing Biblical Greek class (Sundays at 1:15 p.m.), students will learn to translate from the original language of the scriptures.

THE BOOKS OF ISAIAH AND DANIEL

Room 122
From Isaiah, we’ll move on to the book of Daniel—a collection of narratives and apocalypses. One of the themes of Daniel is the nature of royal or state power in relation to the sovereignty of God.

FALLING UPWARD: A SPIRITUALITY FOR THE TWO HALVES OF LIFE

Walthour Library
Join Canon Carolynne Williams as we explore the words of Richard Rohr: “We are created with an inner drive and necessity that sends all of us looking for our TRUE Self, whether we know it or not. This journey is a spiral and never a straight line. If we go to the depths of anything, we will begin to knock upon something substantial, real, and with a timeless quality to it. We will move from the starter kit of “belief” to an actual “inner knowing.” This is most especially true if we have ever loved deeply, accompanied someone through the mystery of dying, or stood in genuine life-changing AWE, before mystery, time or beauty.” It is not necessary to have attended any of the previous classes. All are welcome.

MUSIC

NASHVILLE ORGANIST TO PERFORM SUNDAY

This Sunday, April 19, we welcome organist Dr. Gregg Bunn as our recitalist at 3:15 p.m. A native of Forsyth, Georgia, Dr. Bunn serves as the organist for Brentwood United Methodist Church in Brentwood, Tennessee, just south of Nashville. A graduate of Shorter University, Indiana University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Dr. Bunn’s recital on Sunday will include works by Bach, Mozart, and Alec Rowley, among others. Come and hear this talented native of Georgia!

CHRISTIANS IN THE PUBLIC SQUARE

At the end of our Eucharistic liturgy, we are dismissed—or sent out into the world—to love and serve the Lord. But what does this mean for us, in this increasingly polarized and pluralistic society? For four weeks during Easter, starting next Sunday, April 26, we will explore this question, with the guidance of Ellen Ott Marshall’s book, Christians in the Public Square: Faith that Transforms Politics. All are welcome, and it is not necessary to attend all sessions.

WORSHIP

EUCHARISTIC VISITOR TRAINING THIS SUNDAY

Have you ever wondered about the parishioners who go up to the altar at the end of the services and get those little black boxes? They are Eucharistic Visitors and they go out after the 8:45 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. services to take communion to those who can’t make it to church. Consider coming to the training led by Canon Carolynne Williams this Sunday, April 19 at 1 p.m. in Room 239 to learn more about this meaningful ministry. If you have questions or want to sign up for the training, contact Jeannie Mahood, jmahood@stphilipscathedral.org or 404-365-1034.

the Choir of Men & Boys from St. Paul’s Cathedral, London

Saturday, April 18 | 7:30 p.m.
in the Cathedral

“I am an Episcopal church musician today, in part, because this was the first Anglican choir of men and boys I ever heard, and it was absolutely a ‘conversion experience’ for me. I had never heard anything so beautiful: it seemed like I was in heaven, and was completely blown away by the repertoire and the beauty of the sound. Whether or not people ever listen to this kind of music, this concert will be a profound spiritual experience that will not fail to make a deep impression on all who attend.”

The labyrinth and Taizé take place the third Monday of each month at the Cathedral. Come to one, or both – and bring a friend!

PASTORAL CARE

WHAT CAN THE PASTORAL CARE DEPARTMENT DO FOR YOU?
Did you know that if you or a loved one cannot come to church, either for a short or extended period of time, Eucharistic Visitors can bring communion to you at your home? Trained lay members of the Cathedral, Eucharistic Visitors bring Holy Communion to those who cannot get to church. They typically visit homes or living facilities after the 8:45 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. services on Sundays. If you or someone you love isn’t able to get to church and would like two Eucharistic Visitors to visit and bring Communion, please call Jeannie Mahood at 404-365-1034 to make arrangements. Also, if you are going into the hospital, or your living circumstances change, please contact Jeannie so that a priest can visit with you.

PARISH RETREAT AT KANUGA

Friday, May 22 to Sunday, May 24.

Register online at stphilipscathedral.org/kanuga
Dear Anna,

You are not alone. Many of us wince when we hear “the Jews” in the passion narratives read in church as we prepare for Easter.

Some people have translated the original Greek as Judeans, religionists, religious authorities, or some subset of those groups.

Amy-Jill Levine, a Jewish New Testament scholar, reminds us, though, that, “Such bowdlerizing obscures part of the reason why Jews have been persecuted over 2,000 years, divorces Jews from Jesus and his earliest followers, and even serves to de-legitimate the relationship of Jews today from the land of Israel.”

I wonder if our wince is really just about anti-Semitism in the text.

Jesus was a Jew, after all, as were his followers. We read the passion narrative from John this year. John was probably Jewish. Sometimes, he seems to be hostile toward whoever he is calling “the Jews,” but sometimes not.

I feel like I’m reading the record of a family argument. They are saying things about each other that neither would tolerate from the mouth of someone outside of the family.

We are right to be suspicious of the text, of course. But, I think that there is another reason why it still has so much energy for us today. After all, we read the stories of the Exodus without worrying about whether the text is anti-Egyptian, and stories about Roman occupation without worrying about whether text is anti-Italian.

There is another place in John’s passion narrative that also makes many of us wince. It’s the moment, two actually, that Pilate presents Jesus and we all shout, “Crucify him!”

David B. Burrell, a Roman Catholic priest, tells a story about spending Holy Week in Jerusalem. Someone asked an Anglican canon there, “Who killed Jesus, the Romans or the Jews?” The canon answered, “I should have thought that any Christian who tried to attribute Jesus’ death to someone else has missed the point of the gospel?”

Burrell goes on to say, “Yet should we dare turn about to face the crucified sinless one, recognizing that we would have done it had we been able, we will be brought to a self-knowledge that is so rare that we wonder whether there could be any other way of attaining it.”

It might be that what makes us wince is the realization that the problem is not just with the text; it’s also with us.

Perhaps, our response shouldn’t be to change the translation, but to acknowledge our past. We do, of course, include margin notes in our bulletins warning against anti-Semitic interpretations. And, we have had classes and sermons on the commonality between Jewish and Christian traditions.

You have made me think of another thing to do – read “the Jews” as a confession.

The good news is that God often speaks to us in the language of repentance.

Your affectionate uncle,

Ames
